INCOMPAS Congratulates Rep. Marsha Blackburn on House Communications and Technology Subcommittee Appointment

WASHINGTON D.C. (January 6, 2017) — Today, Rep. Marsha Blackburn (R-TN) was tapped to serve as the Chair of the House Energy and Commerce Committee's Communication and Technology Subcommittee.

In response, Chip Pickering, CEO of INCOMPAS, released the following statement:

"We welcome and congratulate Representative Marsha Blackburn on her chairmanship of the Energy and Commerce Committee's Communication and Technology Subcommittee. She is a thoughtful, vocal and courageous public servant who understands the Internet's invaluable contribution to our economy and society.

"Our connected world makes this subcommittee vital to the future of innovation, education, security and ensuring that the jobs of the future are American made.

"We look forward to working with her on new network deployment and replicating the success of new fiber in Nashville, along with 5G expansions and competitive innovation policy."
