INCOMPAS Joins Net Neutrality Day of Action Release Flag of Freedom GIF

WASHINGTON DC (July 12, 2017) – INCOMPAS, the internet and competitive networks association, joined today with tech companies, consumer groups and internet advocates in support of strong net neutrality protections that help keep the internet open and free.

The association released the following GIF to lend their support:

In addition, Chip Pickering, CEO of INCOMPAS, released the following statement:

“INCOMPAS is proud to join and support the net neutrality day of action. A free and open internet is both an economic engine and the greatest free speech platform in history. We are proud to stand with those defending net neutrality against attempts by large cable and phone companies seeking to block, throttle and control the internet through paid prioritization schemes.”

DON'T MISS: On THURSDAY morning, INCOMPAS will host an event to release the results of a national survey on net neutrality conducted by leading conservative pollsters.
